

Your Big Opportunity in Brass Beds

We are constantly on the lookout for big values to offer customers, and we have secured the most popular designs in Simmons Brass Beds. These are the famous beds you have read so much about in The Ladies' Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post, etc.

Simmons Brass Beds are here in all sizes—bright or satin finish.

The materials are the best that unlimited capital can buy. The workmanship is the finest that the biggest metal bed factory can produce. The name Simmons on the footrail of every bed is a guarantee of lasting satisfaction.

The price is ours. Our well-known policy of highest possible quality at the lowest possible price has never been more convincingly illustrated than in these beds.

Come in and see them. There is a Brass Bed design here that will "fit in" perfectly with your other furnishings and will suit you in price.

Exacting, appreciative, practical, hard-headed America—has, as one unit, O. K'd the small, light, economical, $615 Overland.

They like its style; its good-looking lines; that smart, individual air of exclusiveness. They like its power and pep. It shoots up a hill like a streak of greased lightning. It gives, but seldom gets, the dust.

Deep, soft, divan upholstery, large 4-inch tires and shock-absorbing cantilever springs take all the stiffness out and put all the comfort in.

This car comes complete. No expensive starter or speedometer or anything extra to buy.

Investigate this car right away. It is but $615—complete.

Game Warden Charles Keith of North Seminary street went yesterday to Marshfield, in which vicinity he is making a stay of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rounds and daughter, Dorothy, of Park street returned to the city yesterday from Castleton, where they passed the holiday with Miss Abbie Moxley.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Newbury, who were recently married in Barre, arrived in the city last evening for a visit at the home of Mrs. Martin's brother, E. C. Brock, of Washington street.

E. M. Hutchins, who is employed at the Smith & Cummings meat market, moved his household goods from 51 Elm street to Ayers street last Tuesday. G. T. Roberts has moved into the house vacated by Mr. Hutchins.

R. James Grigg of Somerville, Mass., a former resident of Barre, who recently completed his second year at Tufts dental college, Medford, has employment with the Bay State railroad, having been assigned to a conductor's run from Dudley street to the quarries at West Quincy.

Miss Lillian Lance and Miss Myrie Grafton have resumed their studies at Goddard seminary, after spending the Memorial day recess at the home of Miss Lance in Lower Cabot. Miss Grafton recently returned to the seminary, after accompanying Miss Amelia Varney to her home in South Strafford, where she was called by the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan W. Reid, who were married in Cleveland, O., Tuesday, and their daughter, Miss Mary Belle Pence, arrived in the city last evening, having been accompanied in an automobile from White River Junction by James R. Mackay. They are to make their home at 72 Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Barclay, who were in Cleveland for the wedding, have also returned home.

Mrs. John Mercer of Maple avenue and Miss Nellie Morton of Boston, who is making an extended sojourn in Barre, went this morning to Burlington, where this evening they are to attend the exercises incident to the graduation of a class of nurses from the training school at the Mary Fletcher hospital. Miss Morton's sister, Miss Gladys Morton of Boston, and Miss Ethel McNeil of Montpelier are among the members of the class.

A. P. Burnham of Perry street, an M. & W. R. engineer, who is taking an extended vacation from his duties while recuperating from an attack of the grip, returned to Barre this morning from Marshfield, where he has been passing 10 days in camp. Coming over on the Green Mountain express early to-day Mr. Burnham excited the envy of trainmen and passengers alike by exhibiting one of the finest strings of trout ever picked up along the Wells River line.

Police headquarters was asked yesterday to aid in the recovery of a lost child, who strayed away from Farwell street sometime in the forenoon. Parents of the little boy exhausted strenuous efforts to locate the lad and then appealed to the police for assistance in prosecuting the search. Near the South Main street bridge, Officer Harry Gamble encountered a small child who tallied well with the description of the missing youngster. Later the lad was identified as a product of Farwell street and anxious parents, their fears dissipated, hurried to police headquarters to claim the youngster.

A diamond ring reposing on the bed of Berlin Pond some six feet under water was restored to its owner, James Parker, yesterday after the jewel had been missing since Saturday. While cruising the placid waters of the pond Memorial day, C. B. Croft and Philip Ellis speculated on the remote probability of finding pearls in the bottom of the little lake. The talk was of hidden treasures, the chambered nautilus and Capt. Kidd until Mr. Croft espied a shining object in the sand almost directly under the boat. With the aid of an ingeniously contrived snare, the boatman angled successfully for the sparkler and had the satisfaction of restoring the ring to Mr. Parker, after the latter had abandoned all hope of ever wearing the gem again.

Farmers of Washington county, connected with the county farm bureau organized in Barre late last winter began to gather in the city to-day for the annual business meeting of the association, which was due to convene in Howland hall this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Among the members there seemed to be a feeling that the present state of affairs have been so faithful to the newly formed bureau that re-election might be had without the asking. The following editorial note is taken from the Northfield News: "The Washington County Farm Bureau association, under the able leadership of F. H. Abbott, is doing some fine work and the meetings held are growing in interest and the farmers are co-operating with him to make it of real value to them."
